The House passed an amendment to the army hill provding that no further increase of longevity pay shall accesso retired officers Those hereafter retired will not receive any increase above the sum paid when retired.

spondence between General Miles, Secretary Root and President Roosevelt has been transmitted to the House. It shows that General Miles applied for service in the Philippines February 17. He said in the application that the war is being conducted with marked severity, and requested that he be given general authority. He proposed taking ten Cuban and Porto Rican regiments, and explained the benefit that the United States Government would derive. Secretary Root disapproved of this, saying General Miles sought to supersede General Chaffee because he held a subordinate commission. He also called attention to the denial by the Civil Government of

To-day, at the tithin hour, considerable excitement was created by a fire in Pottinger Street. The outbreak took place in a very parrow back alley off the upper portion of the street. Mr Mackie and Mr Macdonald attended with the Central Fire Brigade and two engines. Fresh water, scarce as it is, was used until a supply could be obtained from the Harbour, and in this way the fire was prevented from spreading and perhaps burning down a very congested area. The men worked under great difficulties, having to remove a large quantity of baskets and boxes, which were piled up in the alloy, before being able to take the hose to the seat of the fire. Ultimately, they got the mastery of the flames and the total damage, when operations censed, would not be over $1000, for which amount the property is insured.

Chinese Tariff Revision.

The N.-C. Daily News of the 5th inst says :-- At the conference on Thursday forenoon between the British and Chinese Commissioners (-hêng Kungpao was again absent) the following three topics were discussed: (1) The opening of International commercial ports in the interior; (2) the importance of coining money having a uniform weight and system : (3) joint partnerships between foreigners and Chinese in commercial undertakings. It is stated that Comailesioner Lü Hai-huan-who if will, perhaps, be remembered was a few years ago Customs Tootni of Chinking previous to going to Germany as Chinese Minister-showed a surprising and, under the circumstances, unexpected opposition to the opening of commercial ports in the interior, maintaining that they would be a fruitful source of trouble between foreigners and natives. - On the 7th inst., the same journal said: men of H.M.'s Navy and Army in the During the last three or four meetings Town Hall; repetition performance in the between the British and Chinese Commissioners the negotiations on the Chinese side were conducted by Associate Commissioner Lu Hai-huan alone, owing to the inconvalescence of the Chief Commissioner, Sheng Kungpao. Mr Stewart Lockhart-Sir, with reference to the resolution that stands in my name in the orders of the day, it is in connection with this matter. The papers regarding the new Post Office have not only been laid on the table now, but were circulated amongst the members of Council and also faraished to the Press. so that those interested in the matter might have full opportunity of reading them and of knowing all the reasons which have induced the Government to take the step of purchasing the site in front of the offices of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. The want of a thoroughly up-to-date Post Office is a very real one, and is one that has been recognised by the community who pays a visit to the present Post Office, will at once realise that the want is a pressing one, and now being taken with view to supply that pressing want its enthusiasm. Messra Grimble and Ward are steps which will facilitate this matter considerably, because it will be possible now to take immediate steps with a view to

As to the site itself, I do not think it requires any remarks of mine to commend it; I think everybody will recognise that it is an ideal site for a rost Office. With those few remarks I beg to move that this Council approve of the expenditure of the sum of $5 18,280 for the purchase of Marine Lots 99 and 100. Mr Thomson seconded.

Mr Whitehead - Sir, before your Excellency proceeds with the adoption of this There are persistent reports that Boer William Robinson in 1894, and that the new Post Office should be erected on the marine frontage. Mr Whitehead- Sir, I would point ou that the paper is incorrect as it stands. The motion was then put, and was unanimously carried. THE NEW BUILDINGS ORDINANCE. His Excellency-Gentlemen, that is all the business to-day, but I should like that you will allow me to detain you with a very few words respecting the Buildings Ordinance, 1902, brought forward about a month ago. This Ordinance was brought time for the reason that the then Attorney General, now Chief Justice, had given an enormous amount of time and labour to the preparation of the bill, and it was brought forward in order that any matters requiring explanation might be explained by him while he was still in office, as he was better able to explain them the bill for a month. (Applause.) T cmonth had practically clapsed, and the bill was ready to be brought forward once more, when it reached me again that there were a number of people who fancied that the bill as it was laid before you was not final altogether, that it would have to be altered, and that, if passed in its present form, shortly afterwards some other measure would have to be passed bringing forward greater reforms. I felt that this was most objectionable, for many reasons, and I therefore summoned the two high experts fortunately present in the Colony. Professor Simpson and Mr Chadwick, who had taken a great part in the drafting of the bill, and brought them before the Executive Council, and I asked them the point-blank question whether the bill as laid before you embraced everything they wished to call attention to, and the answer came that it did not embrace all the things they wanted to bring before us; in fact, that in i's present form it was not final. The Executive Council therefore unanimously agreed to postpone action until the measures suggested by these two high experts should be brought forward. I make these few remarks to you because the frequent postponement of a bill on the part of the Government might be thought to be a sign of weakness. It has not been so in this case. (Applause.) We are all agreed, I think, that a measure of reform is required, but I was very anxious that everybody whose interests are affected should not only have every possible reasonable apportunity to look into the matter, but also that the bill as laid before you should have that reasonable prospect of finality that such a bill should: be expected to have, and I can promise you that when it is laid before you the bill will have that finality, and we can then discuss the measure and pass it on its merits. (Applause).

MR MARSH'S FAREWELL CONCERT.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

Unfortunately, the breakdown of the weather had a bad effect on the attendance at Mr Alec Marsh's farewell concert, held last night in the City Hall. Many Peakitesand Kowloonites, who had already purchased tickets, were provented only by the inclement atmospherical conditions from making use of them. Those who braved the elements, however, were well repaid for their pains, as Mr Marsh and the telented ladies and gentlemen who assisted him acquitted themselves in an admirable manner, and what the audience lacked in number was abundantly compensated for by opened the concert with a pianoforte duet; there is no need to comment on their skilful performance. Mr Marsh has probably never been heard in Hongkong to better advantage, and his spirited rendering of Blumenthal's 'Life' carned a rapturous demand for an encore, when he sang, 'My Love is Come.' Mrs. Mudic was beartily received, her beautiful voice just suiting the pretty solos she had elected to sing, namely Goring Thomas' A Summer Night' and in the second part 'A Summer Shower,' Mrs Lowson, who by the way is leaving for Scotland' to-morrow and is not likely to be heard in Hongkong for some time to come, gave an artistic rendering of Blumonthal's 'Sunshine and Rain, and, as an encore, 'The Fairy's Lullaby, Lieutenant Dale, R.W.F., in his violin solos, showed a mustery of the instrument and a touch and finish which is rarely attained by the amateur. He was site of the new Post Office has now been | encored on both occasions. Mr Marsh's under discussion for a very long period of appearances in the second part were years. The question was referred to on a par with his efforts earlier in a committee appointed by H.E. Sir the evening and delighted his hearers. 'The Toreador Song,' a favourite of his, was rundered with great spirit. He sang 'The Owl' by request, and created much merrimont. The beautiful duet 'Oh, that we two were Maying' (A. M. Swith) received a highly effective interpretation from Mrs Mudie and Mr Marsh, and won hearty plaudits. Mr C. If. P. Hay was very successful in Lehr's Love's Proving, and Mr G. P.
